

Project Number: 2019-1-DE02-KA204-006113

Activity: European identity

|        |                                                             |
|--------|-------------------------------------------------------------|
| Author | Kuopion kansalaisopisto – Anna Pohjalainen, Marjo Markkanen |
|--------|-------------------------------------------------------------|

Jean Sibelius (1865 –1957) was a Finnish composer and violinist of the late Romantic and early-modern periods. He is widely recognized as Finland's greatest composer and, through his music, he is often credited with having helped the country to develop a national identity during its struggle for independence from Russia. His “Finlandia” hymn is now considered the unofficial national anthem of Finland.

Source: Wikipedia